Shirts: Guaranteed to ship out within 3-5 business days.

All shipping is done from CALIFORNIA, using USPS or UPS.

International shipping can take from 2-12 weeks depending on your location.

Tracking will be emailed to you once the product ships.

NOTE: We are not responsible for delays in shipments once the product leaves our hands. You will be responsible to call USPS or UPS with your tracking # and investigate the holdup or reason for delay if you need more information other than the tracking #.

WILL THE COLORS FADE?

No, they will not fade. You may machine wash and dry. If you’d like to be extra careful and get the most longevity, we recommend washing cold wash with like colors, and hang drying. The full print socks at the bottom of the foot will start to wear. The black foot athletic socks solve this problem, so if you are worried about that, then make sure you order the black foot socks!

WHAT MATERIAL ARE THE T-SHIRTS?

All shirts are 100% premium fashion fit polyester. See the “info” (i) button above each shirt style on the main page to view further description and image. For sizing refer to size charts down below following question: “What size chart should I get?”

WHAT QUALITY OF IMAGE SHOULD I UPLOAD?

The BEST quality you have available! When uploading an image, the result will depend on the quality of image you submit. Keep in mind that the image when viewed on your phone is only a few inches big, but then when outputted onto a sock or shirt has to be blown up to 10-30” or more! So always use your BEST quality available to you for best results. Note: Silky Socks is not responsible for a low quality image being uploaded, and cannot improve the output of a low-resolution image once submitted.

WILL IT ACTUALLY LOOK LIKE WHAT I SEE ON MY PHONE?

We will do our absolute best to recreate what you see on the screen, however it will never be 100% accurate. You can bet on 90%-99% accuracy and our efforts for continuous improvement and customer service! We encourage you to place logos or critical elements away from the edges, so they are included on the garment and less exposed to getting cut off.

HOW IS IT MADE?

Socks: Each product is handmade, and checked to ensure quality. No two pairs or two socks are exactly alike as this is a 100% custom process to produce them. A break in the pattern will appear on each of the sides of the socks. We do our best to make it look natural and reduce the break on the sides to look as natural as possible.

Shirts: Each piece is individually made! The shirt is already sewn up together, and then the print is applied on top of the shirt. There are certain areas where the print cannot reach on the shirt, in particular near the seams and the armpits. These parts will remain white, and these “Flaws” are part of the print process and individuality of each shirt.

WHY DID THE WHITE COME OUT YELLOWISH?

This print process does not print any white onto the fabric. So beware of using images with white in them. In print it may end up replacing the white areas with an off-white or yellowish result. We cannot control that, and the best way to avoid that is to use Hi-quality images, and avoid images with too much white inside the image.

HOW ACCURATELY ARE THE COLORS PRINTED?

When transferring an image from a phone or computer to a garment it will not be 100% exact match. There will always be some percentage of variance from this transfer. We use the best material fabrics available to us with the cleanest starting result to achieve the cleanest end result. But please always keep in mind that how it looks on your phone or computer is not 100% accurate to how it will output on to the actual garment. Also read question above regarding Yellowing so this does not happen to you!

WHAT IS ON THE BACK?

For socks, the same design will go on the front and the back. For shirt and tanks, we currently offer front only. Thus on the White t-shirt, the back will be white, with a slight shadow of the print indent from the front. The Tank will be white on the back, with a slight shadow of the print indent from the front. The blackout tee will be black on the back.
